

A NEW LITTLE FREE LIBRARY

at Salt Point and you are invited to visit!

The Friends of Salt Point are excited to be the sponsors of the Little Free Library decorated by Robin Schuttenberg!

The way it works is simple:

- We initially stock the LFL with a variety of good quality books that we hope will interest our neighbors
- You stop by and take whatever catches your fancy
- You return and bring books to contribute
- LFL books are always a gift - never for sale!

Little Free Library is a movement started by Todd Bol of Hudson and Rick Brooks of Madison in 2010, and has grown to include little libraries in most states and dozens of countries.

Little Free Library's mission is to:

- Promote literacy and the love of reading by building free book exchanges worldwide.
- Foster a sense of community and connection as we share skills, creativity and wisdom across generations.
- Build more than 2,510 libraries around the world (the number of "real" libraries built by Andrew Carnegie)!

Check out the LFL story at www.littlefreelibrary.org and look at the many amazing examples of little libraries.

Contact Sue at (607) 533-4148 for more information or walk-by to check it out along the trail at Salt Point!
